

Application for registration under the Trans-Tasman Mutual Recognition Act 1997 (TTMRA)

2018 licensing year (expires 31 March 2019)

This application is for Australian-qualified tradespeople to apply for registration and a practicing licence in New Zealand under the Trans-Tasman Mutual Recognition Act 1997 (“TTMRA”).

The TTMRA provides for mutual recognition of equivalent occupational registration and a streamlined registration process, providing the requirements are met. An Australian plumber, gasfitter or drainlayer seeking registration in New Zealand must give notice in writing to the Board of their intention to become registered as a plumber, gasfitter or drainlayer in New Zealand. An applicant must provide the information prescribed by section 19(2) of the TTMRA.

Upon receiving this application the Plumbers, Gasfitters and Drainlayers Board (“the Board”) will contact the relevant Australian authority in the state(s) in which you are authorised, to confirm your details. If you are confirmed to hold an equivalent qualification, you will be granted New Zealand registration and a practising licence in the equivalent class. There are two main classes of registration: “Tradesman” and “Certifying”

Tradesman

People registered and licensed in the Tradesman class have demonstrated they possess the fundamental competencies required to work in their trade. They must work under the supervision of a Certifier and under the direction of their Certifier may physically supervise, as a "nominated person", sanitary plumbing/gasfitting/drainlaying work undertaken by another currently authorised Tradesman, Provisional licence holder, Journeyman, Trainee Limited Certificate, or Exemption Under Supervision for the relevant trade.

Once registered at Tradesman level, the requirements to move up to Certifying level are:

- 1) to have held a licence at Tradesman level in the relevant trade for an aggregate period of 24 months and
- 2) passed the relevant written 9195/9196/9198 examination(s).

Certifying

The Certifying class is the top level registration and licence. Certifiers have demonstrated they possess the advanced competencies required to test and certify their own work and be responsible for the work of those they supervise. They are the only ones that can verify work for official purposes (e.g. sign off compliance documents for local councils).

Being registered and being licensed are different

Registration is the specific level i.e. Tradesman or Certifying. Registration on its own is not an authorisation for a person to work in the trade.

A licence authorises you to undertake restricted work as a Tradesman or Certifier for the current 1 April 2018-31 March 2019 licensing year.

With this application you are applying for (1) registration and (2) a practising licence at either Tradesman or Certifying levels.

The licence will be valid from the date you become registered until 31 March 2019. You will then renew your practising licence annually before 1 April each year if you are continuing to work in the trade in New Zealand. Continuing Professional Development (CPD) is a requirement of licence renewal and the relevant course will need to be completed before you can renew your licence(s).

Once your application has been processed, you will be on the public register and we will send you a registration certificate and a licence card.

Important information for applicants

The Board may postpone or refuse registration if any of the application information provided is false or misleading, if the required information is missing, or if the prescribed fees have not been provided.

You will be informed in writing of the outcome of your application within one month of receipt at the Board's office. If for any reason your application is postponed or refused you will be informed of the reason(s) for this and afforded a right of reply.

Under section 25 of the TTMRA the Board has discretion to place terms and conditions on your registration and/or practising licence in accordance with the restrictions of your Australian licence type.

Once a person is registered in New Zealand and holds a licence authorising him/her to work in plumbing and/or gasfitting and/or drainlaying, he/she will be subject to all the laws of New Zealand applicable to registered persons in those trades.

If information provided to support an application for registration in New Zealand is subsequently found to be false, forged or altered, the application will be cancelled and the appropriate authorities informed.

If your Australian qualification is confirmed to be less than the equivalent New Zealand Tradesman class of registration an alternative pathway to become registered will be suggested to you.

Part 1 – public register details:

The details you provide in the public address field will appear on the Board's online public register (<http://www.pgdb.co.nz/search/public-register.html>). You must provide a contact work phone number for the online public register.

All details in the private address field will remain confidential to the Board and will be the preferred address used for all Board correspondence sent by post.

PART 4 – Supervision of licence

If your Australian licence is deemed to be the equivalent of the New Zealand Tradesman class of registration you will be required to nominate a NZ 'certifying' person who will be responsible for supervising your work for the relevant trade as a condition of your licence. If possible, please complete these details now so a practising licence can be issued without delay.

Note to the supervisor

By signing this application, you agree to comply with your responsibilities as a supervisor and understand that:

- You must ensure that sanitary plumbing/gasfitting/drainlaying (where relevant) undertaken by the applicant:
 - Is performed competently;
 - Is subject to appropriate safety measures; and
 - Complies with the requirements of all relevant regulations, including regulations made under the Building Act 2004 and the Gas Act 1992 (for gasfitting).
- You must ensure that the applicant:
 - Is competent to perform the tasks undertaken;
 - Is adequately supervised while carrying out sanitary plumbing/gasfitting/drainlaying;
 - Complies with all relevant regulations, including regulations made under the Building Act 2004 and the Gas Act 1992 (for gasfitting); and
 - Can produce their current authorisation card on demand.
- You may nominate another currently licensed Certifying Plumber/Gasfitter/Drainlayer (where relevant) or Tradesman Plumber/Gasfitter/Drainlayer (where relevant) (this is called a "nominated person") to provide physical supervision of the applicant. However, you remain responsible at all times for all aspects of the work done by the applicant even where you have nominated another Certifying or Tradesman Plumber/Gasfitter/Drainlayer to provide physical supervision of that work.
- You must verify or certify (for gasfitting) work where verification or certification is required.
- You must notify the Board in writing if your supervision of the applicant ceases. You remain responsible for all sanitary plumbing/gasfitting/drainlaying undertaken by the applicant until the Board has received written notice that you are no longer supervising that person, or until their authorisation expires. Email licensing@pgdb.co.nz
- The applicant's name and authorisation type will be listed on your online public register page as being under your supervision.
